

OFFICIAL UC ALUMNI NEWSLETTER / October 2023 / VOLUME IV ISSUE X

A Note From Our President

Two weeks ago, we celebrated UC's 2023 Homecoming and Family Weekend. The turnout was extraordinary. You'll find pictures and details in this edition of the Alumni Newsletter.

Two types of interactions really stood out to me. First, so many alumni remarked on their positive UC (or Morris Harvey College) experiences. The lifelong friends, caring professors, and preparation for careers and life's adventures were common themes. They were also very complimentary of the many changes we have made to campus. If it has been a while since you have been on the Charleston campus, we would love to show you how the campus is evolving and changing to best meet student, faculty, and staff needs.

Second, I met more parents than in past years, indicating that our emphasis to engage families is building momentum. Parents shared many examples of how well their students have transitioned to UC, and how grateful they are for the high touch environment we create. Such sentiments were particularly noteworthy coming from parents of first-year students. We truly are a family here at UC!

These stories are testament to the important work we do every day, ensuring that our culture is inclusive and caring, and creates a sense of belonging and enablement to fulfill personal and professional goals.

Special thanks to the outstanding work of our Development office, and our fantastic Catering, Facilities, Marketing & Communications, and Public Safety teams for making Homecoming and Family Weekend so enjoyable for alumni, family, and friends. And an assist to Mother Nature for the perfect weather!

Don't be a stranger to UC. We value your engagement and the opportunity to bring back great memories and give you a deep sense of pride in your alma mater!

Best regards,

Marty Roth

Golden Eagles and Friends,

I'm not sure if the Director of Alumni is supposed to be as excited to see everyone as I was but I wanted to run up and hug each one of you! We had the highest attendance for Homecoming and Family Weekend since before the Covid-19 pandemic and whether you were on campus or here in your heart from afar, it was a special time to be a Golden Eagle!

Our goal was to provide events that would give you the opportunity to reunite with longtime friends, have a pause of remembrance for friends we have lost, give a toast to good times, and create new memories. It was our pleasure to welcome and host you for all the special moments we packed into one weekend.

College is certainly an important phase of our youth and for those of us who experienced it on this riverbank, the nostalgia of these buildings is indescribable. I hope your short visit to Charleston brought back good vibes and great memories. Most importantly, I hope you had such a wonderful weekend that you are already planning to be back next year.

The Alumni Spotlight for this month belongs to our two alumni award recipients. Both of these Golden Eagles are involved in their community, have successful careers, and continuously to support UC. They were honored during Homecoming festivities and it is our pleasure to share a little more about them with you.

Congratulations, Steve and Mark!

Steve Kawash, '78

During his time at Morris Harvey College/University of Charleston, Steve was active in student government and many business and social clubs. He graduated summa cum laude in 1978 with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and later obtained a master's in business administration from the West Virginia College of Graduate Studies.

"In addition to getting a great education, joining the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity had a great impact on my life. It allowed me to meet fellow students from around the country and I made lifelong friends with whom I still maintain a close relationship. Despite the fact that several of them live throughout the US and other countries, we are still able to connect on social media, as well as meet in person periodically. Many of them were in attendance at homecoming this year."

"I thought Homecoming 2023 was a very special event. My graduating class was honored this year at a luncheon and we had the dedication of the Sam Femia Broadcasting Booth, in honor of one of my fraternity brothers. I have the good fortune of living in Charleston and get to see all the improvements that have been made on campus over the years. If you have not visited the school in a while, I would encourage you to come to Charleston and see all the great things that are happening at our Alma Mater."

Mark Broyles, '06

"I feel very fortunate that I was able to work so closely with the top-quality business professors at UC. The classes were challenging but I always felt comfortable knowing that their door was open to seek guidance. The personal relationships and just general accessibility that students have at UC is something that I just don't think you can find many other places. I still have all my notes from Alcazar & McMillen's classes!"

"This was quite an unexpected honor because I have seen first-hand the quality of talent that has walked through the campus hallways. It's exciting to see how UC has continued to elevate the college experience from expanding educational programs to upgraded athletic facilities. UC is a real jewel of the community that I am proud to call home."
